Re: Multipurpose Construction

To Whom It May Concern,

Heritage College took much pleasure in officially opening our Multipurpose Centre in 2019, designed by Kneeler Design Limited and constructed by Edmanson Constructions.

Heritage College is a private school in the South East, with two campuses providing education to ELC children through to Year 12. The School is situated in a rapidly growing area and the demand for buildings to be constructed quickly and properly is high while still being realistic about the setbacks, adjustments and delays along the way.

As the Principal of the College, and having participated in various construction projects over the past several years, I can legitimately testify to the integrity, hard working, and unfailing professionalism of the CEO Mr Andrew Edmanson and appointed site manager.

The MPC is a state of the art construction and has met all our expectations for both the use in our sports programme and also for all of our formal events. The project was completed ahead of schedule despite several setbacks with weather and adjustments made by the College. All site meetings were conducted with total transparency and clarity, and the College always felt the construction company was flexible with all school events and altered school dates.

Feel free to contact me via email if you have further questions.

Yours Faithfully,

Mr Sonny Aiono BSocSci(Hons), DipT, MEd
Principal
